5 Description

(a)Introduction, Theme & Significance

d) Introduction

The aim and the objectives of career guidance seminar is to motivate students engage the minds and hearts of them in such a way that motivate them to think more clearly, see opportunities, and move forward with action. In any interaction, students need to know what they want. Most of the speeches involved some kind of objective, there are very few neutral interactions and the thrust of the interaction is typically understood by those involved, even though it is not stated so to improve there thinking ability and change their mind sets, Mechanical Engineering Department organized a Guest Lecture on Career guidance on 30th July, 2018.

e) Theme

To connect back to their highest purpose as a student, as a human being, as a team they help them to go beyond daily distractions and lead them back to remember what their mission is in the first place.

Sr. No.	Objective	Expected Outcome
1	Students can use this time available to them due to COVID 19 pandemic to bolster their resume and also to make them aware about different career options available which motivate them to learn new skills.	Various sessions will help students become better at what they do. When they will be able to head back into work, they can leverage those new skills for a raise, a job opportunity; think of a new start up or even to take on a new role, allowing them to truly make the most of this uncertain time to plan their careers.

5. Description:

(a) Introduction, Theme & Objective:

Introduction:

As Coronavirus spreads throughout the world most of us are in lockdown at home, we are left to wonder what a post-coronavirus-world might look like. There's a lot unknown about how the world will transform after we get the novel coronavirus under control, but it is extremely unlikely that things will just go back to exactly the way they were before. Our workplaces are likely to change, and with it, the skills companies will require. Hence Department of E & Tc has organized “Knowledge Webinar Series” for students which will not limit their creativity and help them to explore new things in their career.

Theme: Online sessions were arranged for students to make them aware of various job opportunities available and skills required for the same in future.

Objective: To make aware and prepare the students with the skill set required for various job opportunities & also to start their own start up.

(b) Conduction:

The Knowledge Webinar Series had a blend of experts from different domains and all of them guided participants at their fullest capacity. The topics covered under the Series were mainly focusing the different opportunities available in various sectors such as, Indian Navy, Entrepreneurship, Solar energy and Civil Services along with session on Human values which plays a vital role in life of any human being.

Mr. Ashish Wakde guided and explained to all the participants that how important the Values are there in any workplace as well as in day to day life. Lt. Cdr. G. Abhishek explained the participants' different ways through which they can apply to Indian NAVY and also explored different available specializations. Mr. Deep Mukherjee explained how you can start up your own venture of your interest by considering various factors like your expertise, Market trends, Economical aspects etc. There are also certain areas like solar energy and its related installations where students can concentrate and have great job opportunities, explained very nicely by Mr. Sanyam Indurkhya. The series ended with a session where, Mr. Simran Chauhan from SIMRAN IAS Academy explored various aspects of civil services for the students who wish to join them. He explained very nicely how to approach and prepare for such kind of exams.
